

HOW TO BUY?

NASONS

from NASONS ELECTRIC CO.,LTD.

Get the right heat shrink products for your next project quickly, easily, and with expert guidance.

At Nasons, we make it simple for electrical contractors, distributors, OEMs, and industrial clients to source high-quality heat shrink products that meet their technical and operational needs. Whether you're buying for a local project or export, our process is designed for speed, precision, and reliability.

Explore Our Products

01

Browse our Heat Shrink Product Hub to explore all available tubing types, molded parts, and cable accessories.

Each product page includes:

- Technical specifications
- Performance ratings
- Recommended applications
- Available sizes and shrink ratios

Share Your Project Details

02

Go to our Get Help with Your Project page and tell us about your requirements application type, heat shrink category, and desired specifications. Our team reviews your request within hours to ensure the best match.

Receive a Custom Quote

03

Once we understand your project, we'll send a detailed quotation including:

- Product specifications and technical details
- Price per unit or per set
- Estimated production and delivery timeline
- Optional customization or special performance requirements

Our goal is to give you transparent, reliable pricing that matches your technical needs, quality expectations, and project volume.

Confirm & Place Your Order

04

After reviewing the quote, simply confirm your order via email or phone.

We'll prepare a proforma invoice and coordinate with our logistics team for dispatch or pickup. All orders undergo strict inspection and testing to meet Nasons' quality and performance standards.

Production & Delivery

05

Your heat shrink products are then manufactured, tested, and prepared for shipping.

We offer:

- Local delivery within China
- Export coordination for international clients worldwide
- Secure industrial packaging to ensure products arrive without damage

Our team will keep you updated throughout the process until your order safely reaches your facility.
